GUJARAT CONFIDENTIAL

SHAH EFFECT

WHEN AHMEDABAD Municipal Corporation (AMC) announced Wednesday that it would pull down 99 old and dilapidated overhead water tanks within 45 days to avoid accidents, the BJP jumped in to give the credit of the decision to its party president and Union Home Minister Amit Shah. Three died in a tank collapse in Bopal in August whereas another incident was reported in Ghatlodia earlier this month. Both were in Shah's Lok Sabha constituency of Gandhinagar. Though Bopal is not under the AMC, the party went on to say how "on Amit Shah's directions, AMC conducted a survey of all overhead water tanks and ordered that all dilapidated ones be pulled down at the earliest". Not only that, the party also credited him for AMC's responsiveness following the Bopal incident, as residents were supplied water from nearby water tanks and through water tanker lorries.

MISSING CONGRESSMEN

HARDIK PATEL'S press conference in Rajkot on Tuesday to raise the issue of damage caused to agricultural crops by unseasonal and excessive rain was conspicuous owing to the absence of local Congress leaders. Patel was largely surrounded by his old friends of the Patidar quota stir days. His tone while warning the state government of a "farmers' agitation" if the farmers were not compensated against their losses also somewhat resembled that of his days as the convenor of the Patidar Anamat Andolan Samiti.

TAKING POTSHOTS

WHILE BOASTING of the Congress's "impressive" show in the recently-held assembly elections in Haryana and Maharashtra, Rajasthan Cabinet Minister and party's Gujarat in charge, Raghu Sharma, said that while the party workers were confident of victory due to their hard work, it was only the senior party leaders who were "taken back by the party's performance". When pressed to reveal the names of the senior leaders, Sharma said, "Everyone knows who they are. Why do you want me to go on record with names."

OLD TRICK

THE ARRESTS of five police constables in September for allegedly forging documents and fabricating evidence to pocket Rs 8.48 lakh seized during a raid at a gambling den had raised eyebrows within police circles. But a senior officer of Rajkot district police used some tried-and-tested tricks of investigation and the alleged accused walked into the trap rather quickly. The officer presented himself as their well-wisher and assured the constables that they would be saved from harsh action if they first produced the cash in question. As soon as the accused cops surrendered the wads of currency notes, the officer booked them for cheating, forgery, fabricating evidence and other charges.

IN WAKE OF TAKSHASHILA FIRE

SMC to purchase 7 rescue cushions at Rs 13 lakh each

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
SURAT, NOVEMBER 7

TAKING STEPS for better preparedness in the wake of the Takshashila fire tragedy, Surat Municipal Corporation is set to purchase seven inflatable cushions, known as jumping/rescue cushions, which are used to catch people jumping from burning buildings in the event of a fire, or other such emergencies.

These cushions will be stocked in all seven zones of the SMC. Using the cushion, which inflates in just 60 seconds, the life of a person jumping from up to 25 metres can be saved. Ahmedabad Municipal Corporation already has such jumping cushions, but its falling limit is 9 metres.

Surat city hit national headlines after a fire broke out at an illegal structure on the roof of the commercial building Takshashila Arcade in Sarthana area on May 24, this year. The massive fire engulfed four floors and blocked the way to the emergency exits. A total of 22 students were killed in the fire, of which a few of them died jumping from the fourth floor to escape the blaze. Fire department sources said the students had jumped from a height of 16 metres.

After this incident, the SMC fire department has been stocked with better equipment and latest fire tenders. In addition, inflatable cushions are also being bought. On Wednesday evening, the fire department officials moved the proposal and a tender scrutiny committee gave the go-ahead for the purchase of seven jump/rescue cushions.

"We have identified an agency that will supply the jumping cushions. The price of a single jumping cushion is Rs 13 lakh, and we will purchase seven. We have seen the product and find it quite good," Chief Fire Officer Basant Pareek said. "The weight of the cushion when folded is 94 kg while its length and width is 4.4 metres each while the height is 2.4 metres."

Pareek said the cushions that are being purchased by the SMC are made by a US-based company named Vector, whose products adhere to "international standards". They will be supplied to SMC by an Ahmedabad-based agency, which has earlier supplied to a local body in Chhattisgarh, he added. "If a person jumps (on to the cushion) from 25-metre height, he/she will remain unhurt and a life can be saved," the chief fire officer said. "The Ahmedabad Municipal Corporation has such jumping cushion with a limit of 9 metres falling distance."

Cyclone Maha weakens into depression

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
AHMEDABAD, NOVEMBER 7

'SEVERE CYCLONIC storm' Maha weakened into a deep depression Thursday morning and was further reduced to a depression by evening, off the coast of south Gujarat in the east-central and adjoining northeast Arabian Sea. As the cyclone weakened, it brought heavy rainfall Thursday morning along coastal Saurashtra districts and a few districts in south and central Gujarat including Kheda, Anand, Panchmahal, Chhota Udepur, Vadodara, Narmada, Ahmedabad, Amreli, Gir Somnath, Junagadh, Surat, Tapi, Bharuch and Dahod.

The India Meteorological Department (IMD) has forecast that the depression will weaken further into a well-marked low-pressure area over the northeast and adjoining east-central areas of the Arabian Sea off south Gujarat coast by Thursday night. On Thursday afternoon, it lay centered over the northeast and adjoining east-central Arabian Sea about 80 km to the south of Veraval and 70 km to the south of the union territory of Diu.

As Maha weakens into a well-marked low-pressure formation, IMD has predicted light to moderate rainfall over south Gujarat with heavy rainfall at isolated places over Diu, Junagadh, Gir Somnath, Amreli,

IMD has predicted light to moderate rainfall over south Gujarat with heavy rainfall at isolated places and Bhavnagar on Friday.

Wind speeds could reach 40-50 kmph gusting to 60 kmph over northeast Arabian Sea along and off Junagadh, Gir Somnath, Diu, Amreli, Bhavnagar, Bharuch, Surat, Navsari, Valsad, and the union territories of Daman and Dadra and Nagar Haveli. Fishermen are advised not to venture into Arabian Sea along and off south Gujarat coast till early Friday.

The areas that received heavy rainfall Thursday were Thasra in Kheda district (55 mm), Jafrabad in Amreli (54 mm), Umerpada in Surat (53 mm), Una in Gir Somnath (29 mm), Kukamunda in Tapi (26 mm), Ankav in Anand (25 mm), Godhra in Panchmahal (24 mm), Ankleshwar in Bharuch (21 mm), Chhota Udepur (19 mm), Desar in Vadodara (18 mm), Sankheda and Bodeli in Chhota Udepur (16 mm each).

Other districts that also recorded considerable rainfall were Naramada, Ahmedabad, Dahod and Junagadh while most parts across the state received light rainfall.

Hotels in Diu suffer losses after Diwali, panic over weather blamed

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
DIU, NOVEMBER 7

HOTEL OWNERS in Diu claim that over 85 per cent of their bookings were cancelled during 'post-Diwali' vacation, which they blame on "panic mongering" over inclement weather during which the administration issued a blanket ban on tourists.

Hotel owners claim there has been a massive decline in bookings after Diwali, which is usually the busiest tourist season. As Gujaratis prefer to travel during new year holidays post Diwali — which usually goes on till November 10 — the notice from the state government has "killed" their chances of maximising revenue, they said.

There are 69 registered hotels and paying guest accommodations in Diu classified into A, B, C and D categories, as per the Diu Tourism and Information department. Hotels in category A (9) and B (25) are equipped with bars (unlike in Gujarat which is a dry state) and parking areas.

The local administration has also asked hoteliers to not serve hard liquor to their guests and suspend all water sports activities. Since Gujarat is a dry state, one of the reasons for public to flock to Diu is liquor.

Rasal Beach Resorts is a luxury hotel located at Nagoa beach, Diu's most famous tourist spot. However, since Tuesday evening, a no-entry board has been put up at its reception.

"Usually, our hotel is jam-packed with no room availability in the 10-day period after Diwali. Tourists from Surat are the most sought-after customers for hoteliers in this period, as they are known for their extravagant spending. However, we have seen a phenomenal decline this year. Hardly three-four tourists are staying in our hotel as they arrived before the weather forecasts were made and they, too, will leave by Wednesday night," Manager of Rasal Beach Resorts Ravi Solanki told The Indian Express. "This year, due to the weather forecasts of Cyclone Vayu and Cyclone Maha, business has been in poor shape for the past six months. The administration announces a blanket ban on tourists as soon as any alarm is sounded."

Diu hotel owners say there has been a massive decline in post-Diwali bookings. Javed Raja

Between the two cyclones there was also Cyclone Kyarr, that passed over the same coast and brought rainfall during Diwali and the Gujarati new year festivities.

Tending to a handful of customers during breakfast hours, Prakash Shah, owner of Hotel Richie Rich at Nagoa beach, said, "We have been asked to not allow any tourists and if they are already here, they must vacate by Wednesday night. Eighty-five per cent of our bookings got cancelled after Diwali."

Nilesh, owner of Dream Vision Guest House, explains that he has suspended all app-based bookings.

"As we have been asked to not allow any more guests, so we have suspended our mobile app services. However, if someone ends up at our counter in the wee hours, we can't say no," said Nilesh.

According to the Diu Tourism and Information Department, this year, till the month of August, as many as 3,39,794 Indian citizens and 1,329 foreigners stayed in Diu hotels. In 2018, a total of 4,92,617 Indian citizens and 1,839 foreigners had visited Diu. It was in this year's post-Diwali vacation that the Tourism Department was looking to overtake last year's statistics. However, given the current situation, achieving it seems a distant possibility.

"The peak tourist period is post Diwali in November, summer vacations (June/July) and three-four days in December end," an official of the Diu Tourism Department said.

Diu Collector Sonali Rai refuted the claims made by the hoteliers blaming poor business on the weather alerts. "The weather alert was sounded only on November 4 and they were asked to not allow tourists then. The hotels have done good business in the days after Diwali," Rai said.
